Mr. Ralph Unterzuber of the Ford Tractor Division of Ford Motor Company served as a consultant to the group. Two years ago the Agricultural Education Department at Appomattox County High School received a tractor power train from the Ford Motor Company for instructional purposes.

A second two day workshop was held on Thursday and Friday of last week at the James Wood High School near Winchester, Va. This workshop was under the direction of Professor T. J. Wakeman, member of the agricultural education and agricultural engineering departments at VPI. Special emphasize

Bloodmobile Visit Tuesday

There are lots of benefits from giving blood, say these many - time donors (above). Sometimes (as on this Tuesday in Appomattox) there are free gifts for each donor (see article at right). But, each and every time these volunteers give blood they know that someone--somewhere, and possibly a neighbor or friend, will receive much - needed blood and renewed health. Mrs. Eddie Davidson, now a patient at Lynchburg General, has a chronic blood condition and has received many pints of blood. She has exprased her thanks to all the donors of Appomattox who have made it possible for her to receive blood transfusions. She will need more -- and says that it's hard to find the words to say thanks! Pictured above are (seated) Mrs. Minnie Mann (gallon donor) and Mrs. Ruth Cordell (nine units) Standing (from left): Albert Harvey, 25 pints, Edward Harvey, 19; Ned Nash, 19 pints and John Canada, 14 pints. The quota for Tuesday is 108 units.

Noon To 6 p. m. At Baptist Church

First visit of the American Red Cross Bloodmobile for the new fiscal year will be Tuesday, Aug. 3, from 12 noon to 6 p.m. at Liberty Baptist Church.

Quota for this visit will be 108 units, according to Mrs. Benjamin Harvey and Mrs. Robert Carter, co--chairmen for the Jr. Woman's Club, sponsors of the Bloodmobile visit. The yearly quota is 325 units, an increase of nine pints from last year's quota of 316, which was met and surpassed by the volunteer donors of Appomattox County.

A reminder from the Bloodmobile committee - Young men and women 18 years old to 21 years of age no longer need parental consent to give blood.

As usual, there will be coffee, sandwiches, cold drinks, milk and cookies furnished by interested groups and businessmen and women throughout the area.

The Pepsi-Cola company is again giving a quart of Pepsi to each donor. One more time- it's a great opportunity to swap a pint of desperately needed blood for a quart of refreshing Pepsi! Everybody can be a part of the Pepsi-generation. Either give blood and/or give your time to type, be a receptionist, a labeler, a nurse, a baby-sitter in the nursery, a canteen hostess OR call up Mrs. Harvey or Mrs. Carter. They have opportunities not listed yet.

The WMU of Liberty Baptist is furnishing food and helpers for the canteen.

All blood donors will receive a loaf of King's bread, compliments of King's Market.

To Have Car Wash

The Lucky Clover 4-H Club will sponsor a Car Wash on Wednesday, August 4th, from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m. in Pamplin. The location for the car wash will be posted at a later date.

Changes Aimed At Improving Farm Income

A change in government regulations broadening eligibility rules for farm commodities under government loan has been cited as one more step toward improved farm income.

"It's another change in line with the policy of adding to the freedom of farmers to handle their farm operations as they think best and compete more effectively in the marketplace," said W. T. Powers, Virginia farm program official.

"To start with, the Agricultural Act of 1970 provided more options to farmers in the voluntary wheat, feed grain, and cotton programs. Since then, many U. S. Department of Agriculture regulations have been broadened, also giving farmers more options," he said. Mr. Powers is State Executive Director of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) which administers USDA farm programs in Virginia.

Three other illustrations of how recent changes in regulations are opening more choices to farmers were cited: "With prior approval, loan commodities may be delivered to points beyond the customary delivery point. Soybean, corn, and oats loan rates are to be based on county - where - stored instead of county-where- grown. More types of structures are eligible under the farm storage facility loan program.

"To non-farmers, these probably sound rather technical," Powers said. "Even farmers who aren't directly affected may not pay much attention, and not every farmer is affected by every change. But the cumulative effect for agriculture as a whole is very important.

"With more freedom to choose their crops and acreage, as provided in the Agricultural Act of 1970, and with more options in storing and marketing their crops, as changes in regulations are providing, farmers are better able to improve their net income. Improvement of farm income is essential. Farmers must have assurance of more equitable returns for their big commitment of land, money, time, and technological know-how," he said.

The latest change in regulations will permit producers to enter into contracts to sell cotton, grain and similarly hand-

Joe Irby Semi-Retires

Mr. Joe T. Irby, affectionately known as "Joe" to his many friends and customers, is shown above in his shoe repair shop on Church Street. "Joe" first came to Appomattox County in November of 1921 and at that time lived near Red House. On June 29, 1932, he moved to Appomattox and bought the shoe repair shop, now known as IRBY'S SHOE SHOP, from Mr. Jim Wooldridge (deceased) and has been in the same location and business for the past 39 years. IRBY's SHOE SHOP is the second oldest business in Appomattox under the same management.

Effective immediately "Joe" will be semi-retired; he will only operate a shoe patch machine and a shoe stretcher along with his ODDS AND ENDS SHOP located in the same building.

Mr. Irby married the former Miss Dottie Crowder in Petersburg on March 16, 1932, and they have made their home in Appomattox since that time. Mrs. Irby is a Registered Nurse.

Dealing in antiques, making hand-made furniture, fishing and talking with his many friends are among "Joe's" hobbies. He remarked, when we visited him on Monday of this week, that when he got so he couldn't walk, he got himself a wheelchair; and if he gets so he can't talk, he'll get himself a bush and shake that! In the opinion of Joe Irby, the worst illness anyone can have is self-pity and We sincerely hopes never to have that happen to him.
